Mayor

789 : 17-3-2022

KOTA KINABALU: Mayor Datuk Noorliza Awang Alip has highlighted multiple activities to improve the sentiment towards Kota Kinabalu.

This includes a community empowerment approach, having joint responsibility in tracking and tackling environmental issues, as well as cleaning and greening Kota Kinabalu.

These activities and initiatives will span across all age groups, as well as NGOs and corporate players. Noorliza stated this at the networking session of "Love KK" campaign in the "Kupi-Kupi Bersama Mayor" recently.

One of Sabah Housing and Real Estate Developers Association's (SHAREDA) mission statements is to progressively work towards developments which are sustainable in nature. This is in line with the five objectives of the "Love KK" campaign - to make KK more Beautiful, Clean, Green, Livable and Vibrant.

The mayor commented that multiple programs and activities were in the pipeline to achieve the goals set out by the "Love KK" campaign, including the community tree planting program, green pocket at strategic areas and also economic activities at parks and open spaces.

SHAREDA president Datuk Sr Chua Soon Ping then unveiled economic activities at parks and open spaces. She further elaborated that the immediate impact from achieving the objectives of the "Love KK" campaign includes attracting investors and further business opportunities, creation of new jobs, and revitalising service sectors.

On the other hand, Chua unveiled that a plan to work with Kota Kinabalu Wetlands centre has been brought forth to improve connectivity towards the Likas Bay esplanade area. This will greatly increase the accessibility in tandem with improving overall market value of areas adjacent to the planned bridge.

Chua further elaborated that the proposed bridge area will also cater to pedestrians and cyclists alike, further promoting a lower carbon, greener and cleaner ecosystem.

Pursuant to the increase of accessibility, he also commented that KK North properties is planning to work with the Kota Kinabalu City Hall (DBKK) and Sabah Electricity Sdn Bhd (SESB) at Sepanggar on a 20-acre development site. They are planning to designate a substantial portion of the site for development of a recreational park available to the community at large. This will provide a larger open space area within the development site as compared to the currently allocation of 10% only.

Noorliza further elaborated that the immediate impact from achieving the objectives of the "Love KK" campaign includes attracting investors and further business opportunities, creation of new jobs, and revitalising service sectors.

GCoM Malaysia: 'Good job, City Hall'

By Kean Yee Ching
KOTA KINABALU, Sabah — The Global Covenant of Mayors for Climate and Energy (GCoM) Malaysia Chapter was officially launched on Monday (14 Aug) at the Hyatt Regency Kinabalu. The event was attended by GCoM Malaysia Chapter members, including the Sabah State Government, Kota Kinabalu City Hall, and various stakeholders. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter is a voluntary association of local government leaders committed to addressing climate change and energy issues. The chapter's launch marks a significant milestone in Sabah's climate action journey. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter will focus on promoting climate resilience, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, and improving energy efficiency. The chapter will also work towards achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by 2030. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter is a part of the global GCoM network, which has over 1,000 member cities and municipalities across 100 countries. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter will be supported by the Sabah State Government and Kota Kinabalu City Hall. The chapter will also receive technical assistance from the GCoM Secretariat in Brussels, Belgium. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter will hold regular meetings and workshops to discuss climate change and energy issues. The chapter will also work towards implementing climate action plans and reporting on progress. The GCoM Malaysia Chapter is a testament to Sabah's commitment to climate action and energy transition. The chapter will play a key role in Sabah's climate action journey towards a sustainable future.

Why climate change is so hard to tackle
The climate change challenge is complex and multifaceted, requiring a coordinated effort from governments, businesses, and individuals. The science of climate change is well-established, but the political and economic barriers to action are significant. The global climate system is a complex system with many feedback loops, making it difficult to predict the exact impacts of climate change. The economic costs of climate change are high, and the benefits of action are often delayed. The political will to act is often lacking, and the interests of different groups are often in conflict. The global nature of climate change requires international cooperation, which is often difficult to achieve. The climate change challenge is a long-term one, requiring sustained action over many years. The climate change challenge is a global one, requiring action from all countries. The climate change challenge is a human-made one, requiring a change in our way of life. The climate change challenge is a challenge that we all face, and we all have a role to play in addressing it. The climate change challenge is a challenge that we must act on now, before it is too late. The climate change challenge is a challenge that we can win, if we act together. The climate change challenge is a challenge that we must act on now, before it is too late. The climate change challenge is a challenge that we can win, if we act together.
